Leading Complex Technology Projects With Experience You Can Trust

Leading Edge Design Group (LEDG) specializes in technically complex mission-critical projects. We are strategic partners, thoughtful designers, implementation specialists, and trusted program managers. A certified minority business enterprise (MBE), LEDG has worked with some of the most progressive, high-performing organizations in the private and public sectors since 2007.

Leading Edge Design Group's Program Management Office (PMO) specializes in the successful implementation of strategic technology projects, especially within resource-constrained organizations and teams collaborating with external resources.
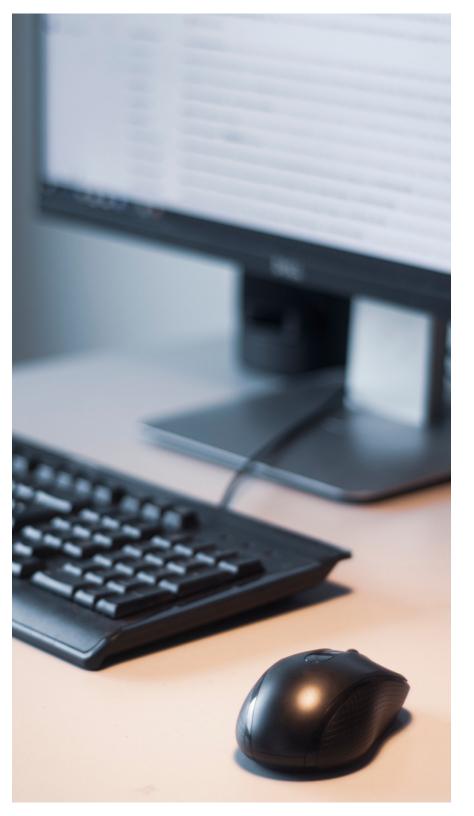

With an unbiased approach, LEDG ensures the effective management of full lifecycle technology projects, tailoring services to align with your organization's industry, size, and unique requirements recognizing risk, security, and compliance. Under the guidance of a seasoned enterprise leader who previously served at the CIO level,

LEDG's PMO boasts decades of expertise in steering information technology and infrastructure strategies and executions. Our PMO team is meticulously curated, ensuring that each project is staffed with individuals who bring invaluable real-world end-user insights to every engagement.
